Semesters at FGM?

Parents and F. G. Miller High School students packed the Community Services Centre gymnasium Thursday night to demand a change of at least a larger part of the high school classes to the semester system.

F. G. Miller presently offers a 'hybrid system:' core courses on a ten-month schedule, with some options on semesters. The school was on a semester system some years ago, but went to the 10-month system under the administration of Phil Matveyenko.

The meeting followed a sparsely attended meeting the previous week, which had been called by the teachers, and which many parents found themselves unable to attend. A group of parents who wanted further assessment of the possibility of conversion to semesters, arranged the second gathering, which was also attended by Principal Bob Tredger, several teachers, local school trustees and the Superintendent of Schools.

Superintendent Ted Cabaj gave the School Board's perspective on the situation, noting that they have no policy on the choice between full-year and semesters, because they have found 'each community is unique,' and must be looked at individually. F. G. Miller, 'basically an academic school,' would have a 'lot of variables to look at' in contemplating such a change. Cabaj said he feels English is one subject 'better not semestered,' but that some subjects lend themselves very well to semesters.

Grade 12 student Tammy Jennissen, who was in the semester system at Brooks before moving to Elk Point, said semesters give high school students a chance to finish in two and a half years, if they wish, instead of three. It also gives students who fail a course a chance to make it up the next semester, rather than using up a whole year. She noted that Grade 12s studying under the semester system find it much easier to study for departmental examinations, as they are divided up between late January and June.

Bob Tredger assured those present that the FGM timetable is 'built to maximize the benefits to the students, and to maximize the teachers' abilities.' He is an advocate of full-term courses because the ten months allow students to 'practice their skills daily' over the longer period of time. With Junior and Senior High students in the same building, and taught by the same teachers, the increase in semestered courses could produce problems with

Stoney Lake Park honors area pioneers

Wooded hillsides once trod by the moccasins of Stoney Indians, and later by the boots of General Strange's soldiers during the Northwest Rebellion will now know the sneakered feet of campers, picnickers and holiday-makers, as the Stoney Lake Municipal Recreation Area, known as Stoney Lake Pioneer Park, opened to the public last Friday, June 24.

MLA John Drobot, who was raised on a homestead near the new park, told visitors to the official opening ceremonies that the scenic lake, 27 kilometers south-east of St. Paul, was first mentioned by historians in 1760, when it was given the name Stoney Lake after the Indians who fished its waters and those of the creeks which feed it, and traded the smoked fish at the forts along the North Saskatchewan River. In 1840, a smallpox epidemic killed vast numbers of their tribe as they camped on the west side of the lake, where the first homesteaders found hundreds of graves, when they arrived in the early 1900s.

During the Northwest Rebellion, General Strange was ordered to march to Lac La Biche with a column of troops, to protect that outpost from possible attack. En route, they were reportedly camped on the same hillsides where the new campsite is located, when messengers came to tell them the rebellion was over. 'That's history, folks, and we're part of it,' Drobot said.

The area was opened for homesteading in 1909. One of the earliest settlers, Pete Pierson, who built his home half a mile from the park site, wrote home to a newspaper in Sweden, telling of the beauties of the new land, and precipitating a large influx of Swedish settlers. Other nationalities, along with numerous Americans, followed.

In the early days, picnics at the other end of the lake became a summer tradition. The first rodeo was held in 1924, across the creek from the present rodeo grounds. Logs for a community hall were hewed from the surrounding forest and erected by a group of willing volunteers in 1942. Twenty years later, the first annual Stoney Lake Stampede was held, with many of the same volunteers who ran that first stampede still donating their time and service today.

'The spirit of community is what it's all about,' Drobot emphasized. Among those responsible for the creation of the new park, he pointed out numerous volunteers whose work 'above and beyond the call of duty' helped to build the park for all to enjoy, before bringing some of those worthy individuals forward to take part in the ribbon cutting ceremony.

Drobot's address followed a series of congratulatory messages and presentations honoring the new park's opening. As a fitting tribute, the afternoon had opened with the arrival of the Stoney Lake Stampede on horseaback, carrying Canadian and Provincial flags which fluttered briskly in a stiff breeze as Russ Kowtun and Marcel Lafortune raised the Canadian and Alberta flags on the tall flagpoles flanking the park sign, and Judy Dubelt led the singing of O Canada.

Stoney Lake Stampede Association President Leonard Demchuk introduced his fellow members and the distinguished guests in attendance.

Alberta Recreation and Parks Senior Consultant Fred Wilton reviewed the Municipal Recreation Areas program, which started in 1981, and resulted in the creation of Lac Bellevue Park and Parc Lagasse in St. Paul, as well as the Stoney Lake Park, which came in the wake of a $100,000 Tourism grant. Wilton called it an 'interesting, well done development' and one of the best he had been involved with under the program. He urged community support for the parks, for which funding under the program 'is only seed money for quarter or half million dollar projects.' Wilton presented a handsome plaque on behalf of his department, to be displayed in the park.

County of St. Paul Reeve Robert Bouchard thanked the MLA for his support of 'a super project' and asked him to convey the community's thanks to the Minister of Recreation and Parks for his commitment to rural Alberta. Bouchard presented County pins, along with his thanks, to the committee members. The 186,538 man-hours put in to the park's construction by inmates of the St. Paul Correctional Centre were recognized by the presentation of a plaque to Correctional Centre Director Tim Jackson.

Jackson, in expressing his thanks and that of his staff and the inmates, said it is part of the Correctional Centre's mandate to help the community with projects of this sort.

County Councillor Bill Ference introduced Project Coordinator Russ Kowtun, who has been an integral part of the project since its initiation in November 1986. Ference thanked the County crews, the builders of the utility structures, Ralph Kryvenchuk for his special painting effects on the Park Office, Blaine Easthope and his students for the construction of tables, benches and fire-pits, Don Mudryk for the flagpoles, Westmin Resources for the fireplace, Petro Tech Electric for trenching water and power lines.

Ed Nelson, President of the Greater Lakeland Rural Crime Watch, presented an honorary membership to Park Warden John Kiss, and expressed a hope to work closely with Kiss and the local RCMP to keep the park a safe place to visit.

John Drobot presented Kiss, Donald and Leonard Demchuk and Bill Ference with pictures of the site when it was 'just a jungle of rosebushes and beaver-felled poplars—I didn't think it could be done.' He praised the work of the Correctional Centre workers who wrested the park from the 14 acre Crown land wilderness.

The day concluded with a variety of local entertainment, MCD by Harry Hryniw, and a fine lunch prepared by County staff and donated by the St. Paul Co-op.

Auxiliary thanks donors

All the Elk Point Heritage Lodge Auxiliary members would like to express their warmest heartfelt thanks for the generous donations in response to their request for assistance in purchasing furniture and equipment for the Lodge residents.

Sincerest thanks go to the following: M. D. of St. Paul Foundation, $500; Canadian Union of Public Employees Local #1070, $100; Grace Franks, $100; Rose Kalyta, $100; Elk Point and District Lioness Club, $100; Elk Point OORP Lodge #269, $100; Windsor Goodwill Club Committee, $100; Energy Chemical Workers Union Local #474, $100; Elk Point Ukrainian Catholic Church, $200.

These donations are greatly appreciated, and to date were used to purchase a 35mm camera, six wooden folding tables and eight stacking chairs.

Badge of Service certificates and pins were awarded to Georgina Morris and Maude Krissa.

A Certificate of Merit and pin were awarded to Dora Scott.

The awards were presented by Wasy Elashuk, President of the Lindbergh Red Cross Branch.

scheduling, Tredger noted. The Junior High schedule remains the same for every day of the school year. Regarding final examinations, he noted that many of the students involved in writing six final exams this June 'will be doing the same next year in college.'

Ted Cabaj reminded those present that flexibility in the semester system comes when more than one section of a subject is offered during the year, which requires more students to make it feasible. Also, two sets of exams 'take 12 to 14 days out of the year.'

Several information reports were part of the program. Shirley Harms, who spoke with the Department of Education in Edmonton, said that in Alberta, 33 schools had a totally 10-month high school program, 86 were strictly semester, and 267 have a hybrid system, the majority of these with more semester than 10-month courses. The size of school, she said, had no bearing; there are 25-student schools on semesters, and 1500-student schools on 10-month programs. The Department spokesman told her that lack of continuity and increased catch-up time if a student is ill are disadvantages of semesters, while flexibility in timetabling and concentrated instruction are seen as advantages.

Ruth Vogel had contacted Myrnam School, where Grades 10 and 11 are on 10-month schedules and Grade 12 is on semesters. The Myrnam students are very pleased with the system, which came about in recent years, and the Principal reports a different atmosphere, with less tension at exam time.

Diana Anderson, one of the organizers of Thursday's meeting, said that a 'very strong interest' was demonstrated by the sizeable turnout. She suggested that the meeting be used to ask questions, and raise concerns because 'there is no point in pressing for change unless it is to be an advantageous change.' This point was well taken by the group, whose questions to teachers, Superintendent and board members were many and varied.

In conclusion, Master of Ceremonies Glen Harms asked for a show of hands on either continuing with the present system, or changing to more semester courses. Of approximately 140 people, only 7 voted for a continuance of the present system.

RETIREMENT WISHES--are expressed to Ralph Riemer by his longtime employer, Joe Brunner of Sunshine Bus Lines. May all the roads of your retirement be smooth ones, Ralph!

Riemer honored by Sunshine Bus Lines

The Sunshine Bus Line hosted an appreciation supper for the drivers and their wives at the Empress Restaurant recently.

The applause went to Ralph Riemer, who is retiring after 14 years of school bus driving to the Elk Point School. In that time, Riemer has not missed one day due to illness--a record indeed--and only four or five times was he late to school in the morning due to bus failure or blocked roads.

Joe Brunner, Owner of Sunshine Bus Lines, pointed out that driving a school bus was 'not as simple as many would believe. There is a vehicle to look after and breakdowns to detect, a very tight schedule to follow, and traffic to watch for along the route.'

Also, he noted, a bus driver must be a parent to students, and must answer to parents whose child is mistreated on the bus.

The evening closed with Brunner presenting a pen stand with an engraved plaque to Riemer, for his years of dedicated service as a bus driver in the school bus industry.

Riemer responded that it had 'been a pleasure working for Joe--I always felt I was working WITH him, for a common cause, rather than for him.'

Riemer's retirement plans sound like the proverbial 'busman's holiday': he and wife Niki plan to 'do a lot of travelling.'

Happy Canada Day!

Letter to the Editor

Save The Children

Dear Ms. Brooker:
I recently received press clippings of the articles on Save The Children-Canada which appeared in your newspaper.
I would like to take this opportunity to thank you for your coverage of our organization. Save the Children is a voluntary, non-profit organization which works in partnership with people in the Third World to create a better future for their children. Your assistance in making Canadians aware of the work being done by people in Africa, Asia, Latin America and the Caribbean is very important to us. During Save The Children Week 1988, volunteers across the country asked Canadians to join us in this partnership for development in order to further our work. Your coverage of the activities of our volunteers in The Lakeland Review is greatly appreciated.

We look forward to working with you in the future. Again, thank you for your coverage of events and activities in Elk Point.
If you would like more information on Save The Children, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Long years ago, when I was a kid, we didn't call it Canada Day—it was referred to as the 1st of July, just as in the States their day was the 4th of July—and everyone knew what those days referred to. If we wanted to get fancy, we called it Canada's Birthday, but in fact not much attention was paid to it, since most of the people I knew, were still considering themselves 'Americans' so made their obeisance to the American birthday.

I should have said 'Yankees' there, rather than Americans, as 'Americans' is a newer moniker adopted by Yankees to describe themselves, since technically we are all 'Americans'—inasmuch as we live in one or the other of the Americas.

I admit it is harder to say 'United Statesians' than 'Americans.'

So we early Albertans held our Sports Days, School Picnics, Ball Games, etc., on July 4th—naturally. I remember one summer—I was in about Grade 3 or 4—the teacher found we had missed so many days with rotten roads and cold weather in the winter and spring, that we would need to put in a few extra days—I think it would have been two weeks—in order to get all our work done that we should get done before calling it quits for the summer. This was near the time when the big change-over began, whereby we had summer holidays, instead of staying home through January and February, when it was cold and stormy and the roads were so heavy with snow drifts, and compensating for this by going to school all summer. (And we had lots worse winters then, than we do now!)

Of course, the powers that were had decided to have a Sports Day on the 4th of July, and we all wanted to go to that—for me a chance to win 10 cents in a three-legged race!—but we were to have the 1st of July off. After a consultation with the teacher, and she taking a vote, we all agreed to go to school on the 1st, if we could have the 4th off.

All this was decided on June 30th. Home we went, to give the happy news to our parents. Ha! Ha! 'No way!' says our Mother, the English-cum-Canadian. 'You do not insult our country's honor by 'working' (she meant going to school) on the 1st of July!' So we stayed home and weeded the garden.

However, on Monday, the 4th of July, our Father, the American-reluctantly-turned-Canadian, who had unremittently worked all day of the 1st, determined that he deserved a day off, and would go to the Sports Day, and we, as his bounden duty, would be allowed to go to said Sports Day also.

Mother wasn't about to sit home alone, so she made up a bunch of lunch, we packed it into the democrat, along with our many bodies, and off we went to the Sports Day—which I think was over on the Sand Plains that year (now being the golf course and considered eventually as a Recreation Grounds). It made an excellent Sports grounds, as there was very short grass (no need to cut it), a few clumps of poplars here and there, used to sit under while we had lunch, and the further away ones to tie the horses under, where they could munch their oats in relative comfort from the flies.

Here the ice cream stands were set up, where one could also buy hot dogs, pop, pie and other junk food—IF one had the shekels. Adults had to pay to get in—what, a quarter?—but I think kids got in free. Dad would hand us out each a dime or two, or a quarter for the older ones (boys!) but for the rest of our splurge we were encouraged to hustle some funds for ourselves. Which meant competing in the races.

I never could run worth a hoot, and was not up to wolfing down a pie in seconds flat, or beating an opponent off a suspended pole with a bag of feathers while perched on the other end of said pole. No one in their right mind would let me on a ball team, or Tug-of-War rope. I couldn't jump—either broad or high—so what was there left to do?

I could con some other unsuspecting girl, who also needed a boost to her 'wad', to enter the three-legged races! In this we didn't need only to be fast, we had to cooperate. Our legs tied together (that is, one of hers to one of mine) with a scarf, so we stood side-by-side, then at the 'GO' holler, off we went, wobble, wobble. Some fell, some rolled, others bounced back and forth—but we! I guess even then I was a born dancer, as I could synchronize my gait to hers, whatever it was, and we hot-footed it down to the finish line, winning far oftener than not. No need for speed, just a nice matched gait, so you didn't end up with your face in the dust. And the lovely cash at the end! Sometimes first place got a quarter, so then we were rich all day.

Imagine a big slab of home-made raisin pie on a paper plate for 10 cents! Or the heaped-up ice cream cone, for 5 cents! Suckers or candy canes for one cent, popcorn for a nickel. Ah...1928, you were many many ages ago!

So, Back to school next day, and try to explain to the teacher how come you missed BOTH days—after promising to come! And you find she sat there all through the 1st of July with three kids present, and they only came because they didn't know about either of these great important days, having come from some 'foreign' country like Norway or Denmark—or Russia, where there wasn't a '4th of July' day of any sort. It was nice on that occasion, to be able to blame the parents, 'They wouldn't LET me come!'—when sometimes it seemed like they had to chase us to school with a switch.

So I hope you ALL have a lovely, surprise-filled Canada Day, complete with a bit of ice cream, the sun to shine upon you and lots of flag-waving. Don't try so hard to 'have a good time' that you end up bone-weary or sloshed, run-over, or lose any kids. (Even if they sometimes make you feel like it would be a good idea.)

On this Canada Day of 1988, I will be far from home, and the home town, hopefully enjoying a sunny day on my son's farm near Fairview, along with great numbers of my family, from far and near. My son Dennis whom I've not seen for a year, will be there, with his family, as will my other kids. Lots of grandchildren, great-grandchildren, aunts (a few) and uncles (a few) and one family I've never met before, up from the States, my Father's brother's granddaughter (how's that for intricacies?) from Seattle, with her husband.

My Father, youngest son of a family of ten, was the only one of his family who came to Canada, and I have never met a single one of his side of the family before—so needless to say, I am looking forward to this meeting. Not that I've been short of family to meet. There are some 300 that I am aware of, mostly my mother's folks, or my husband's family, here in Canada. So we have good reason to make merry—on this—our Canada's 121st Birthday. And I intend to.

Awards Day at Elk Point Elementary

As the school year drew near to a close, achievements and good citizenship were applauded at Elk Point Elementary School's Awards Day, June 23.

Among those honored were a group of 24 parent volunteers who have helped out with the hot lunch program. Plants were presented to the members of this group who were able to attend.

Postmaster Bill Currie was on hand to present Grade 2 student Aaron Grosseth with awards won in the Design-A-Stamp Contest, which involves students from Alberta and the Northwest Territories. Aaron received first-day covers of the Olympic stamps, a model antique postal van, and a certificate of participation from the Edmonton Stamp Club for his Honorable Mention standing.

The devoted service of 22 Grade 6 students who gave up their noon hours on a regular basis to supervise fellow students unable to go outdoors because of illness or other factors, was recognized with the presentation of gift certificates from Elk Point Burger Bar. These students were: Jaime Spence, Jennifer Jasinsky, Sheri Phillips, Jordan Pelech, Terry Desjarlais, Foster Rath, Cody Lawrence, Curtis Aubee, Tanya Stone, Joleen Heathcote, Candace Ference, Tanya McLaughlin, Wendy Boratynec, Lisa Lesyk, Dale Pinder, Gregory Goertzen, Charlene Anderson, Dorothea Naber, Crystal McPherson, Terry Wakaruk, Cheryl Gervais, Mike Blanchard.

Two athletic awards were presented by Ed and Joanne Bespalko, with the Carrie Bespalko Memorial Award going to Grade 3 student Raegan Croteau, and the Tracy Bespalko Memorial Award to Grade 5 student Raemi Fischer.

Certificates from the Alberta Motor Association and gift certificates from Dave's Pizza were presented to this year's School Safety Patrols: Robyn Moroziuk, Danny Hanson, Jeff Lypka, Jody Brovchenko, Cheryl Gervais, Crystal McPherson, Trevor Van Maarion, Tanya McLaughlin, Curtis Aubee, Scott McMillan, Mike Blanchard and Terry Desjarlais.

Two students each from Grades 5 and 6 received plaques from Ruth Vogel of Vogel's UFA, for their Rural Safety Essays, which were sent to represent the school in provincial competition. Tom Rae, who won a provincial level award, and Jonathan Kadutski represented Grade 5, while Jeff Lypka and Christian Kittlitz represented Grade 6.

Physical Education teacher Rob Boyd reported another successful year for Intramural sports, which involve students from Grades 3 to 6.

Gift certificates from CBM Confectionery were presented to the Intramural Room Representatives and the Special Day Committee, while the winning Tigers team, who collected 1278 points through the year for their outstanding participation, were given commemorative certificates, along with more gift certificates. Tigers Captain Aaron MacLellan accepted the challenge trophy on behalf of the team.

A school t-shirt was presented to Mascot Contest winner Darren Pillsko.

Heinsburg Elementary awards

By Shirley Osinchuk

Friday afternoon, June 24, the Elementary students of Heinsburg Community School each had a moment of glory, as the year's awards were presented. Some received more than one medal, and some were not winners, but every student was 'on stage' singing or playing for family and friends. Each classroom entertained with songs, and the Grade 5 and 6 class also played recorders, both alto and soprano.

Miss Marge Carter has been their music teacher, and was Master of Ceremonies for the awards presentations.

A very special award, the 'Young Author's Club' was won by Sara Daniels, and presented to her by Mrs. Viola Dumont, representing the Northlands School Division, sponsors of the award. Miss Daniels, who lives at Sputnikow, said she became interested in the contest in January, when her mother gave her a booklet about it. The booklet said that the winning story would be published and sent to all the Northlands schools. 'I had written a story earlier in the school year, and I thought that I might as well enter it. I typed it up on the word processor and sent it in. I did not expect to win, but you cannot win if you do not try, right?'

The awards presented, to one student in each grade, were for academic ability, and also for other areas of talent.

The award winners are: Music Award: Rhonda Cardinal, Gr. 1; Vanessa Faithful, Gr. 2; Sara Rick, Gr. 3; Adrian Cross, Gr. 4; Janet Sanders, Gr. 5; Lorraine Waskahat, Gr. 6.

Most Improved Award: Aaron Sharkey, Gr. 1; Neisha Tremblay, Gr. 2; Sara Rick, Gr. 3; Alan McCollum, Gr. 4; Edlyn Smuk, Gr. 5; Darren Kinch, Gr. 6.

Art Award: Melissa Moyah, Gr. 1; Valerie Rick, Gr. 2; Melissa Krider, Gr. 3; Adrian Cross and Jamie Bristow, Gr. 4; Abigail Waskahat, Gr. 5; Kirsten Sanders, Gr. 6.

Clandonald track and field day

By Bill Carter

Another successful Track and Field Day was held at Clandonald School on Friday, June 17. All students took part in at least five events with the emphasis being on participation.

Track events for the different Grade Levels were as follows: Gr. 1 and 2—races of 35 M, 50 M, 75 M, 100 M, and 200 M; Gr. 3 and 4—races of 50 M, 75 M, 100 M, 200 M, and 400 M; Gr. 5 and 6—races of 50 M, 100 M, 200 M, 400 M, and 800 M. Field events for the Elementary students included Ball Throw, Long Jump, Standing Broad Jump and High Jump.

Field events for the Junior High were High Jump, Long Jump, Shot Put, Discus and Javelin.

Records and times were not kept for the Elementary students, but ribbons were awarded for Participation, 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th.

Participation, 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th place ribbons were also presented in Junior High. Times and records were kept for the Junior High and several new school records were set. Field records set in Junior High were as follows: 14 Girls Javelin—Shannon Convey, 20.06 M; 14 Boys Discus—Steve Rybchinsky, 28.20 M; 12-13 Girls Shot—Sarah Osinchuk, 8.54 M; 12-13 Girls High Jump—Sarah Osinchuk, 140 cm.; 12-13 Boys Long Jump—Mark Protsch, 436 cm.

Track records set by Junior Highs were: 12-13 Girls 200 M—Sarah Osinchuk, 32.48 sec.; 12-13 Boys 100 M—Mark Protsch, 14.08 sec.

Not all students can set records or finish first in their events, but all teachers and spectators encouraged each student to do his own personal best. The weather cooperated with a beautiful sunny day. Parents helped as volunteers and in cheering the students on. Teachers and other staff members with the help of Steve Poochhoff, RCMP officer from Vermilion, ran the events. All in all, it was a good community effort making for a successful day.

Stoney Lake hosts annual stampede

The first local rodeo of the year went last weekend, as Stoney Lake hosted their 26th Annual Stampede, June 25 and 26.

A new addition to the program was the Rodeo Queen Contest, which was won by local beauty Connie Ahern, who was sponsored by the Stoney Lake Stampede Association. Miss Ahern and fellow contestants Jennifer Babiuk, Aline Jubinville and Rosanne Wirsta were judged on horsemanship, public speaking abilities and personality. MLA John Drobot crowned the winner.

Les Trach's fine rodeo stock presented plenty of challenge for the LRA cowboys. Saturday's 73 point Bareback ride by Ted Hehr of Sherwood Park took the Elk Point Hotel trophy and prize money from 3D General Service and St. Paul Co-op, with Sunday's closest competition coming from Elton Jackson of Minburn with a 70 point ride.

Dallas Burns of Elnora, with 67 points, and Mark Shirley of Edson, with 66, moved Saturday's Junior Steer Riding leader, Corey Haerberle, who scored a 65, down to third spot. Burns took home the Larry Linke-wich Trucking trophy, along with prize money from Letourneau Farm Supplies, Dan's Auto Body and Burger Palace.

In the Saddle Bronc competition, John Cook of Edmonton rode 'Mr. Perogy' to a 69 point score Sunday, leaving Saturday's leader, Tom Cassidy, in a three-way split for second place with Travis Sekura and Robert Toole, all with 67 points. Zarowny Motors donated the Saddle Bronc trophy, while Paul Caouette and Sons, Vogel's UFA and Dary's Auction Service contributed prize money for the event.

A spinning go-round aboard 'Boot-legger' brought Tomahawk's Ron Solomon 72 points for top honors in the Bull Riding. Brent Byers of Camrose was second with a 69, while local cowboy Dion Roscoe was third with a 68. Beaver Lumber presented the Bull Riding trophy, with Lloydminster Heavy Crude, Nick Bodnar Welding and the Elk Point Gulf donating toward the purse.

An 11.8 second run gave Rick Mes-ton of Drayton Valley the Toronto Dominion Bank trophy in Calf Roping, along with prize money from St. Paul Auction Mart and Wolanuk's Fashions and Foods. Gary Cooper of Vermilion ended up in second hole, with a time of 12.4, after many competitors with faster running times broke the barrier.

Steer Wrestling honors went to Dennis Sampson of Hobbema, with a 5.4 second run, for the Dale Real Estate trophy and prize money from D and S Catering, Centennial Furniture Barn and Senecal Tire. Sampson was over a second ahead of the second place finisher, Al Mackenzie of Alliance, with 6.6 seconds.

The speediest time recorded in the Ladies' Barrel Racing was turned in by Cindy Gamroth, with a 16:69. She won the Elk Point Insurance and Realty trophy, and prize money from Gregg's Family Shopping Centre, St. Paul Sales and Service and Fountain Tire. Sunday's fastest racer was Wanda Austin of St. Lina, with 17:45.

Shawn Jeffrey of Devon took Junior Barrel Racing honors with a time of 17:20 for the Linkewich Mobile Home Park trophy and prize money from Phil's Hardware and Speedee Mart. Terryll Garriock of St. Paul took second place with a 17:33 second run.

As usual, fun events were a part of the Stoney Lake program. Sunday's Best Dressed Cowgirl was Jackie Marcoux, winner of a trophy sponsored by Acklands and Wozniak Texaco, while little Wayne Trach was Best Dressed Cowboy, for the Empress Restaurant and John Oryshchuk Trucking trophy.

Only two teams took part this year in that uniquely Stoney Lake event, the Stoneboat Race. Richard Marcoux and teammates. Yvon Belland and Wayne Tymofichuk took home the Drobot Auction Service trophy with the best two-day time, winning over the Kevin Drobot team.

The Wild Ride was wilder than ever, with participants riding with no rigging, no hands, toting fishing nets full of feathers and wearing ballet costumes. Kelly Giesbrecht, the 'Look, Ma-no hands!' competitor, scored a whopping 190 points to take home the Westmin Resources trophy and prize money donated by Westmin, Rose's Catering, Demchuk's Coyote Creek Ranch, Bill and Ivy Ference, Stoney Lake Stampede Association, Lionel's Farm Contracting, Dewberry Hotel, Glendon Hotel, Solar Farm Equipment, Orest and Florence Drobot, Wagon Wheel Ranch, Green Grove Herefords of Wildwood, Old Style Auctions, Lakeland Drilling and Silver Spur Wildlife Ranch.

As usual, a well-attended pancake breakfast Sunday morning, sponsored by Elk Point Meat Processors, St. Paul Packers, Stoney Lake Stampede Association, Tony and Ann Zacharuk, Shelley and Dennis Zacharuk, and a wild and woolly rodeo dance were part of the weekend's activities.

WILD WEST ACTION—Stoney Lake's exclusive Stoneboat Race saw Richard Marcoux, Yvon Belland and

Wayne Tymofichuk wrestle this Bossy into submission for the Drobot Auction Service trophy.

Clandonald news

By Shirley Osinchuk

Our sympathy is extended to the families and many friends of Bob Braithwaite of Dewberry, and Henry Mayhew, long time resident of Clandonald and Vermilion, who passed away recently.

On Wed., June 22, the Premier's Commission on Future Health Care for Albertans met with interested citizens in Vermilion. The focus of the meeting was issues that could be foreseen for the year 2000. The approximately 100 people in the Elks' Hall stated many health care concerns, then broke into small groups to discuss and propose solutions. Problems brought about by the high proportion of older people that there will be, and cooperation among professionals were among the concerns voiced.

The members of the commission had met with about 500 people in the ten days that they had been holding meetings, from Lethbridge to Vermilion. They had found agreement on 75 to 80 percent of the concerns mentioned.

The solutions proposed most often mentioned education, of both caregivers and the general public. Cooperation between the many different professionals was also important, as well as proposed funding for such services as chiropractors, who are presently outside Health Care funding.

The Premier's Commission wants to hear from each interested citizen, and should we not all be very concerned about future health care for ourselves and our families? The Commission's address is:

The library once again played host to one of the elementary classes. Sandy Myshak, the Grade 1 teacher at Elk Point Elementary School, showed her class the correct way to sign out books and the proper way to behave in a library. The children were a delightful class and enjoyed the puppet show and books provided for them.

Now that school is out, many people are thinking about going on holidays. Whether you are taking the kids or just going yourself, the Library has many books that will help you plan ahead. These include such books as Canada's National Parks by R. D. Lawrence, Mexico on $20 a Day by Tom Brosnahan, Great Historic Places of Europe by Marshall B. Davidson, and a variety of World Atlases to make your holiday a most memorable and enjoyable one.

Help maintain your children's reading skills over the summer. We are now accepting names for the Summer Reading Program, 'Lean-Keen-Reading-Machine'. The Elementary children's program will be Tuesday mornings at 10:00 a.m., and the pre-schoolers' program will be Friday mornings at 10:00 a.m.. There is no charge for this program but a library card is necessary to take out material.

Canada Day is this Friday! Not only does it give us a good excuse not to work, it also gives us a reason to find out about Canada and our origins. We have a fine selection of Canadiana books with a lot of history contained within them, both past and present.

Speaking of Canada Day, the Library is running the concession booth in the arena on the evenings of July 1 and 2, with the help and support of the Parent Nursery group and Playschool in Elk Point. Come and support these groups with your purchases at the booth.

In Memoriam

OCKERMAN, Arnold W.

In loving memory of Arnold W. Ockerman, who passed away June 27, 1986.

Fond are the ties that are broken,
Dear is the one that is gone,
In memory we shall keep him
As long as the years roll on.
As we loved him, so we miss him,
In our memory he is dear
Loved, remembered, longed for always,
Bringing many a silent tear.
"In silence we remember."

Sadly missed and fondly remembered by His Loving Wife, Shirley, children, grandchildren and the Ockerman family.
